Press Release: Wing Cheung Hing Knitters Conjoined with SAHK to Arrange a Summer Party for the Children with Special Learning Difficulties

Hong Kong, 25 July 2016 --- Wing Cheung Hing Knitters (WCH) conjoined with The Spastics Association of Hong Kong (SAHK) to arrange a summer party for the children with special learning difficulties, autism spectrum disorder and developmental delay.

In the early 1960s, there was an increasing number of cerebrally damaged infants surviving to childhood. However, there was a lack of related facilities in the society to render those children special education and caring services. Dr. Elaine Field, Professor in Paediatrics at the University of Hong Kong, was aware of this particular issue. In 1963, she initiated to form a committee with a group of pioneers sharing the same mission of providing the spastic children with tailor-made education and caring services and founded SAHK.

SAHK provides comprehensive professional rehabilitation services and facilities for persons with neurological impairments such as cerebral palsy, physical handicap, mental handicap, autism spectrum disorders, developmental delay, special learning difficulties, stroke and Parkinson's disease. SAHK serve all age groups and our services are catered for their special needs at various stages of life.

For more than 40 years, SAHK continuously sought to develop and pioneer comprehensive rehabilitation services for different age and disability groups. There are now a total of 62 service units in operation, including early education and training centres, pre-school centres, district-based speech therapy team, special schools, sheltered workshops, supported employment, hostels, care centres, adult training centres, parents' resource centres, home-based rehabilitation services, conductive learning centre, continuing rehabilitation day centres, rehabilitation seating service centre, professional development & research unit, as well the newly opened Child Development Centres and Jockey Club New Page Inn (for rehabilitation of tetraplegics). Each year SAHK serve over 8,000 families with disabled members.

The summer party was held at the SAHK East Kowloon Parents' Resource Centre at a Saturday afternoon. The Centre serve children, who have autism spectrum disorder and developmental delay, and their families. The volunteers from WCH played games and sang songs together with the children. At last, the volunteers and children made an ice cream fruit parfait and enjoyed together.

It was a very special and rewarding experience. Thanks to SAHK, WCH is grateful to have the opportunity to understand this part of minority and giving back to our community.
